APOLLO ENTERPRISE SOLUTIONS, LTD (AES:BH; OAL:GR) TEAMS WITH NEW ENGLAND FUNDING TECHNOLOGIES, LLC TO PROVIDE CONSUMERS REVOLUTIONARY SELF-MANAGED CAPABILITY TO IMPROVE CREDIT SCORES

Los Angeles, California, August 4, 2014 – Apollo Enterprise Solutions, Ltd. (“AES”) (AES:BH; OAL:GR), the leader in advanced Agent Emulation™ Systems for consumer credit portfolios for banks and financial institutions, has entered into a multi-year licensing agreement to provide software and data processing services under its extensive intellectual property portfolio with the New England Funding Technologies, LLC (“NEFT”), an innovative consumer-facing online technology company. NEFT has created the first of its kind “Interactive Credit Report™” enabling consumers to manage their personal credit via any connected mobile device anywhere. AES’s robust technology and patent portfolio will enable NEFT to fill a critical void that exists in the market for hundreds of millions of consumers worldwide, addressing their demands to access products and services that help improve personal credit worthiness.

“We are excited to work with NEFT on this noble cause of creating a system of products to address the critical issues that currently exist between consumers and their ability to improve their credit health with real solutions,” stated AES Chairman and CEO Joseph Konowiecki.

Christopher Imrey, CEO of NEFT adds, “Our holistic approach to personal credit management delivers innovative and enhanced solutions to millions of consumers looking for answers to their credit profile concerns. We look forward to our future global success working with the AES organization,” added Mr. Imrey.
